IT IS SO.
I've seen many a girl Who would marry a churl, Providing he'd plenty of gold,
And would live to repent When the money was spent.
When she found that her heart had been sold.
It is so! it is so!
You may smile if you like,
But it is so.

I've known many a lass
Who would thoughtlessly pass Whole hours promenading the street, While her mother would scold All the while at the tub, Never minding the cold or the heat,
It is so! it is so!
You may smile if you like,
But it is so.

There is many a man Who will dress if he can,
And his tailor may look When he settles his book, But his pattern has vanished, or worse,
It is so, it is so,
You may smile if you like,
But it's so.

I know people so nice,
They will faint in a trice,
If you mention hard labor to them, Yet their parents were poor,
And were found to endure Any hardships life's current to stem,
It is so, it is so:
You may smile if you like,
But it is so.

Something for the Sick.
Frequently we find sick people whose stomachs reject all kinds of nourishment until conditions follow that in many instances terminate fatally. In 20 instances in which I have heard the popular sick bed nourishments prescribed and rejected by an invalids enfeebled stomach, I have never known the simple sauce of paroled corn, pudding, or bowl of gruel refused.

The corn is roasted brown, precisely as we roast coffee, ground as fine as meal in a coffee mill, and made either into mush, gruel, or thin cakes baked lightly brown, and given either warm or cold, clear or with whatever dressing the stomach will receive, and retain. Paroled corn meal in skimmed milk, and fed frequently to children suffering Summer diarrhoea, will almost always cure, as it will dysentery in adults, and I believe the cholera in its earliest stages.—Saturday Evening Post.

Locusts Next Year.
The Kansas city Journal says: The earth is perforated with holes into which the creatures have deposited from ten to fifteen eggs. We have counted as many as fifty such holes within the radius of one foot. With the return of spring the eggs will hatch then we may expect a new swarm more numerous and destructive than the present one. It has been suggested that no fires be allowed on the prairies this fall and winter, but in the spring when the young locust makes his appearance, to burn simultaneously all the prairie country. This is a good idea and we hope it will be executed.

A lady in Lafayette, Indiana, recently in preparing her Sunday dinner put some beans in a pot to bake. In a hurry to get to church she inadvertently put her hymn book in the pot and wrapped a piece of pork in her pocket-handkerchief and took it to church with her. Her mortification was intense upon discovering her mistake during service; so was her husband at the singular composition of his repast.

A correspondent of the London Field states that a branch of Walnut tree suspended over a bed, is a good protection from the attack of mosquitoes. If the walnut branch is effective in England, why should its influence not be the same in this country?

Its Benefits
The benefits of advertising may be figured up from the following true narrative.
Not a thousand miles from here, a friend who had not just then much business, requested us to publish his card in the News.
We did so, but in two or three weeks, our friend came to the office post-haste begging us to take out his card immediately, for he had so much work piling in, he could not attend to it! Who says advertising don't pay!—Grand River News

The St. Joseph Herald learns from a gentleman direct from Omaha, that the Union Pacific road was on Saturday last in running order forty-five miles west of Ft. Kearney, and that the contractors are putting down the rails at the rate of 8,000 feet per day.

The Fulton Telegraph of last week says:
In proportion to population we predict that Callaway will be the banner Conservative county in the State. We will give the State, District and County ticket a majority of over 1,800 votes. That's what's the matter.

A Massachusetts farmer has a ewe that had twin lambs in February last, and again in August—an increase of four in about six months. All the lambs are living.

A Short Love Story
Here is a story told by one Morgan, a sea captain, concerning a husband and son, which may afford a comfortable hint to young ladies:

Single ladies cross the water under the special care of the captain of the of the ship, and if a love affair occurs among the passengers, the captain is usually a confident of one or both parties. A very fascinating young lady had been placed under Morgan's care, and three young gentlemen fell desperately in love with her.
They were all equally agreeable, and the young lady was puzzled which to encourage. She asked the captain's advice.

"Come on deck," said he, "the first day it is perfectly calm. The gentlemen will, of course, be near you. I shall have a boat lowered down, and do you jump overboard, and see which gentleman will jump after you. I will take care of you.

A calm day soon came, the captain's suggestions were followed, and two of the lovers jumped after the lady in an instant.
But between the two the lady could not decide, so exactly equal had been their devotion. She again consulted the captain.

"Take that man that didn't jump; he is the most sensible fellow, and will make you a good husband."

A Young Lady's Reasons for not Dancing.
1. Dancing would lead me into crowded rooms and late hours, which are injurious to health and usefulness.
2. Dancing would lead me into close contact with very promiscuous company, and evil communications corrupt good manners.
3. Dancing would require me to use and permit freedom with the other sex, which I believe to be wrong.
4. My parents and friends would be anxious about me if I were out late, keeping company with they know not whom.
5. Ministers and good people in general, disapprove of dancing, and I think it is not safe to set my self against them. If a thing be even doubtful I wish to be on the safe side.
6. Dancing has a bad name, and I mean to study things that are pure, lovely and of good report.
7. Dancing is generally accompanied with drinking, and I see drinking produces a great deal of evil.
8. I am told dancing is a temptation to young men, and I do not wish to have any thing to do with leading them astray.
9. Dancing unfits the mind for serious reflections and prayer, and I mean to do nothing that will estrange me from my God and Savior.
10. There are plenty of graceful exercises and cheerful amusements, which have none of the objections connected with them that lie against dancing.

From Montana—Indian Murders.
Dispatch to the Republican:
ST. JOSEPH, Oct. 11 Latest information from Montana is to the effect that 300 Cheyenne Indians made an attack on the miners at the recently discovered Green River diggings, and killed forty out of the party, which was only seventy strong. The remainder of the party scattered, abandoning their possessions. It is also reported that the Wind river miners have been persecuted and driven from the mountains by the Siox. Friendly Indians have been compelled to seek the protection of the war-est forts. There are also painful rumors of the murder of small parties going down the Missouri. In Mackinows nothing is positively known.

There was a snow storm in Virginia city on the 20th ult.

A new gulch has been discovered in Montana, and it is probable that a large amount of gold will be taken out before cold weather sets in.

From Colorado we have information that the biggest thing in the mountains for the year, had not been struck. It is in the Snake river district; the ore is very fine auriferous galena, mixed with chloride of silver. The prospecting party is still sinking a shaft, with confidence of still better success.

Late arrivals from Salt Lake chronicle the advance tide of a heavy immigration of miners from Idaho and Montana, to Salt Lake, prompted to their movement by the prospect of cheaper living and a more congenial climate.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.
Heavy floods on all the streams have caused considerable damage and loss of life. A number of mill dams and bridges have been carried away. The bridges on the Franklin and Fredenell turn pike are gone. Several houses have been swept away. A family of six persons, and another of three were drowned. Several bodies were found to day. A Rochester bridge, on the Baltimore Ohio Railroad was carried away.

The tools and machinery on many farms are more injured by exposure to the weather than by the wear of actual use.

A correspondent of the Borgo Journal says he saw, on the farm a Mr. Wheeler, of Muskingum Co., Ohio, 3,000 pounds of dry, and well granulated sorghum sugar, manufactured by a process of Mr.
W's. invention.

Hints to Housekeepers.
Do every thing at proper time.
Keep everything in its place.
Alum and vinegar are good to set the colors, red green or yellow.
Salt-soda will bleach; one spoonful is enough for a kettle of clothes.
Have your suds for the gardens and plains, or to harden yards when sandy.
A hot shovel held over vanished furniture will take out white spots.
A bit of glue, dissolved in skim-milk and water, will restore old crapes.
Ribbons of any kind should be washed in cold suds, and not rinsed.
If flat-irons are rough, rub them with fine sand and it will make them smooth.
If you are buying a carpet for durability, choose small figures.
A bit of soap rubbed on the hinges of doors will prevent them from creaking.
Scotch snuff put in holes where crickets run will destroy them.
Wood ashes and common salt, wet with water, will stop the cracks of a stove and prevent the smoke from escaping.

Courage in Every-Day Life.
Have the courage to do without that which you do not need, however much our eyes may covet it.
Have the courage to show your respect for honesty, in whatever guise it appears; and your contempt for dishonest duplicity, by whomsoever exhibited.
Have the courage to wear your old clothes until you can pay for new ones.
Have the courage to prefer comfort and prosperity to fashion in all things.
Have the courage to acknowledge your ignorance rather than seek credit for knowledge under false pretences.
Have the courage to provide entertainments for your friends within your means not beyond.
Have the courage to take a good newspaper, and pay for it annually in advance.

Preserving Potatoes.
A correspondent of the Scientific American says he has tried the following method of keeping potatoes for years with complete success, though in some instances the tubers were diseased when taken out of the ground. Dust over the floor of the bin with lime, and put in about six or seven inches deep of potatoes, and dust with lime as before. Put in six or seven inches of potatoes and lime again; repeat the operation till all are stored away. One bushel of lime will do for forty bushels of potatoes, though more will not hurt them the lime rather improving the flavor than otherwise.

Suicide of a Spiritualist.
A spiritualist named Richard Ayers, committed suicide Saturday, in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, by hanging himself to the balustrade of the stairway in the second story of his residence. He had for a long time been laboring under a kind of mania which led him to believe that his body was bewitched by some adverse spirits.
He threatened frequently "to dispose of his body, that his spirit might receive fair play."

Enormous Yield of Honey.
A correspondent at St. Charles, Kane County, Ill., writes that "from one stock of bees he has three hundred pounds of honey in boxes and frames; worth ninety dollars," and adds "that if buckwheat yields well, the surplus honey will bring one hundred dollars, with out counting those new swarms made from the stock.
The secret of success was, empty come was provided for Italian bees, which had good management and a good season."

Henderson for the Nigger.
In the speech of Senator Henderson at Hannibal the other day, he trusted the negroes were "soon to exercise properly and freely the highest privilege of an American citizen." The highest privilege of an American citizen is to have a voice in the making of our Presidents, Governors, Senators, Representatives and other civil rulers. When negroes are elected to our General Assembly it is possible Mr Henderson may serve another term in the upper branch of Congress.
St. Louis Republican.

The Largest Cheese in The World.
The mammoth cheese lately on exhibition at the State Fair at Saratoga is said to be the largest cheese in the world, and equal in flavor to the best factory cheese that can be produced. It was manufactured at the Ingersoll cheese factory company's establishment, one mile South of the town of Ingersoll, in the county of Oxford, Canada West, by Messrs. Raney, Harris and pendleton. It weighs 7,000 pounds, took 65 tons of milk, or one milking of 70-000 cows. It is six feet ten inches in diameter, and three feet in height. It was pressed by four large screw presses in a building put up expressly for that purpose.
It is the largest cheese in the world, and its manufacturers warrant it equal in flavor to the best factory cheese that can be produced.

By careful selection for four years, Mr.
Hallett, of England produced wheat, the heads of which contained three times as many grains as the original head, and that would produce 60 to eighty stalks from each head sown.

Religion That Will Wear.
There is not much solidity in a religion that will not stand the test of every day experience. There are a good many pious people," says Douglas Jerrold, "who are as careful of their religion as of their best service of China, only using it on holiday occasions, for fear it should get chipped or flawed in working—day wear." That species of religion may do for a show, but there's little substance in it.
It is not the kind to last. It is too fine for use.
It is too much of the gilt—gingerbread sort for the general service of mankind.
It can do little good in eyes of One who Judges us not by the exterior, but by the interior evidences of excellence. Religion, to be serviceable, must not only be substantial, but active. It must not be drowsy.
It must be wide-awake, vigilant, and sturdy.

English Harvests.
Advices from Europe corroborate those previously received, to the effect that there has been a partial failure of the crops both in Great Britain and on the Continent.
In consequence bread-stuffs have advanced in price considerably in the English corn market. The cause of the failure is attributed to long continued high winds and heavy rains. In Ireland the damage has been particularly great, and in some districts an almost total destruction of the crops, both out and growing, owing to the rain torrents.

Mrs. Mary G. Halpine, of Nashua New Hampshire, a contributor to several literary works had an adventure with a burglar a few evenings since. Only herself and mother were in the house and it was raining in torrents. She watched while he removed a pane of glass and introduced his hand to raise the window, and then thinking that the affair had been carried far enough, she discharged a revolver twice, dropping him to the ground. A policeman hastened to the spot but the burglar had escaped leaving a pool of blood under the window.

The Registry law is simply a scheme to tax the people without their consent, for the benefit of the Fletcher Babcock party. It was intended that they should do the voting, hold the offices, and appropriate the money to pay themselves. The people were only to be permitted to pay the taxes.

A late number of a paper published at Corpus Christi, Texas, says that there is a single stock raiser on the Nueces river, whose brands now cover over 30,000 head of cattle. They are sold there at $5 per head.

"If I have, after death, to go either to hell or heaven, I shall prefer to go with loyal negroes to hell than with white traitors to heaven."—Brownlow.

The Rochester (N. Y.) Union proposes that Fred. Douglass, the negro Republican stump, be given the unanimous Radical nomination for Congress in that district. That would be appropriate.

A little orphan boy in Little Rock Ark., who has recently followed the trade of boot-black, was a few days since made the owner of $120,000, by the will of a decessed relative in Louisiana.

A man in Canada has invented a rifle which fires a hundred times in four minutes.

A wealthy gentleman, a New Hampshire paper mentions, who was once a poor boy, is building a hotel to cost $70-000, on the spot where he was once put off the cars because he hadn't money enough to pay his fare.

The suspension bridge across the Ohio river at Cincinnati, is nearly completed.
The total length, including approaches, is 2,252 feet, length of main span 1,057 feet, height above low water, 100 feet.— The cables contain 500 tons of wire.

Gen. Custer has been ordered to report duty to Gen. Sherman at St. Louis.
It is understood that he will be assigned to a command in Kansas, in accordance with his brave rank of Major General.

why is a restless sleeper like the prov-erbal lawyer? Because he lies on one side and turns and lies on the other.

Our prayers and God's mercy are like two buckets in a well—while the one ascends the other descends.

A hypocrite may spin so fast a thread as to deceive his own eyes. He may admire the cobweb and not know himself to be the spider.

An old lady, hearing somebody say the mails were very irregular, said: "It was just so in my young days—no trusting any of 'em."

In the midst of a stormy discussion a wauking majestically dogan—"Gentleman, all I want is common sense." Exactly," Jerrold interrupted, "that is precisely what you do want!" The discussion was lost in a burst of laughter.

If you want to prevent negroes from becoming your judge in the jury box to decide for you questions of law or fact; register; and be ready to do it.

Gen. Pile, who raised the first nigger regiment in this State, and who is favor of the negroes voting, has been nominated for congress by the Radicals in St. Louis
